PREFACE

This is the third publication for West Bengal in the current 1981 Census series. Immediately on completion of the Census enumeration on the 5th of March 1981, the first publication, titled 'Paper 1 of 1981—Provisional Population Totals' was published on the 23rd of March of that year. It furnished the basic population figures at the State and District levels, culled from the figures compiled by the Enumerators, Charge Officers and District Census Officers. In the same year, in September, we furnished some more data in 'Paper 1 of 1981 Supplement—Provisional Population Totals'. That paper yielded the population in the traditional urban-rural breakup, gave a semi-detailed picture of work status of the population dividing the latter in four major sub-groups, presented the Primary Census Abstract Part I and Part II and also added a Table showing the number of the disabled by three specific types of disability. Till then, everything was however on provisional basis.

In the present Paper, the figures—for the first time in the current series—are being furnished as final. The finalization process involved editing, matching, checking and posting of figures from the census records of 99,913 number of Enumeration Blocks all over the State, and dividing the totals among various administrative and Census units. This was in effect preparation of the Primary Census Abstract, a tentative version of which had already been given in the Supplement volume on a limited scale. In presenting the final population figures in this volume, we have gone down to Police Station level in rural areas while for urban areas the levels reached are Cities, Towns and Urban Agglomerations. The District and the State level figures are, of course, there in their final form. Besides, the total population of Scheduled Castes and that of the Scheduled Tribes, broken down in urban-rural terms and divided between the sexes have also been included.

The final population figures down to the lowest units in which they are traditionally presented, will be the subject-matter of village/urban Primary Census Abstract that will come up District by District in the District Census Handbook series of publications. We propose also to publish the Primary Census Abstract for the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in a separate Paper soon, for the Census volume known as "Part IIB—Primary Census Abstract" which deals with this, will take a little more time to be printed. However, both "Part IIA—General Population Tables" and the "Part IIB" are on the anvil and are likely to make their appearance in print by the middle of 1983. The Paper now being presented—it is hoped—will meet the requirements of the data-users to quite some extent meanwhile.

One word of caution is relevant to the readers of this volume. The figures presented here conform to the jurisdictions of various administrative units as they existed at the reference time of census-taking, i.e., 1.3.1981. There have been quite a few changes in the boundaries of various administrative units subsequently—specially in the shape of formation of a number of new municipalities. Such post-Census changes, naturally, have not been taken care of in our Census data.

Finally, like everything else in Census, this volume is also very much a product of team effort. It is our own officers and officials alike who rallied wonderfully to its successful completion. I would like to thank every one of them most sincerely and hope that the same team spirit will see us through in completing all other volumes that are in the offing.

Calcutta,
17th October, 1982.
